

Eat, Play, Love

Cook up some fun with these new food-themed games.

The goal of Cupcake Race is simple: Be the first to go around the board and build a cupcake. $17; Endless Games; toysrus.com

The tiles of Jumbo Bananagrams are oversize and water-resistant, so you can play with them on the lawn. $45; bananagrams.com

Kids won't even realize they're practicing numbers when they play Conezilla. $12; barnesandnoble.com for stores

Two players can come to this Pizza Party, but the pressure will be on: The one who makes the first full pie wins. $10; haywiregroup.com

Sushi Go! is a fast-moving card game for kids 7 and up—it requires strategic thinking and, of course, a love of sushi. $15; adventurelandgames.com

Chef Pop de Pop is the corniest matching game we could find: It comes with a Jiffy Pop-inspired dice roller. $17; gamewright.com

You need a steady hand to win Balancing Burger! The stackable pieces could topple at any time. $23; intplay.com

